

Electronic Application Disclosure Documents

Final Expense – Hawaii

Dear Applicant:

We are pleased to accept your application for life insurance. The application process will be completed electronically. The electronic application process allows you to review all of the information entered into the application form for accuracy before you sign. Your agent will ask all application questions and record your answers as you provide them. Once the application is complete, you will be asked to review all of the information before typing your name in the signature section.

After the electronic document is signed, it is reviewed one more time before being submitted to the Company. If any changes are required at this point, the signature process will be repeated after the changes are made, including another final review before the application is transmitted to the Company. Typing your name into the electronic document indicates your acceptance of its terms. Your electronic signature is legally binding.

Columbian's electronic application, and in particular electronic signature systems and processes use Adobe's PDF SSL digital encryption and lock down facilities. Columbian uses the signed PDF documents as the authoritative data. The electronic application process requires positive action on the part of the proposed insured and the agent and immediately produces a corresponding locked PDF document. Any subsequent alterations will be easily viewed as it will break the PDF locked and encrypted validation seals. Additionally, the data collected and the PDF document will be kept in separate but secured systems providing another validation method.

Columbian's digital signature process involves using an enterprise custom certificate authority. This certificate is a file in a folder on the Columbian hosting server. Once stored on the hosting server, an applicant's signature may not be transmitted to any other forms.

To protect the privacy of the information collected HTTPS (SSL) certificates are employed to encrypt the entire application data gathering session. All collected data is stored in secured databases with access granted only to appropriate Company staff.

DocuSign eSignature complies with the U.S. ESIGN Act and UETA.

All of the Company's data and systems, including that of the electronic application data and process, are secured using current technology standards and procedures that undergo a variety of both internal and external audits and periodic reviews of the process and of the systems to ensure they are kept current.

You are contemplating the purchase of a life insurance policy or annuity contract. In some cases this purchase may involve discontinuing or changing an existing policy or contract. If so, a replacement is occurring. Financed purchases are also considered replacements.

A replacement occurs when a new policy or contract is purchased and, in connection with the sale, you discontinue making premium payments on the existing policy or contract, or an existing policy or contract is surrendered, forfeited, assigned to the replacing insurer, or otherwise terminated or used in a financed purchase.

A financed purchase occurs when the purchase of a new life insurance policy involves the use of funds obtained by the withdrawal or surrender of or by borrowing some or all of the policy values, including accumulated dividends, of an existing policy to pay all or part of any premium or payment due on the new policy. A financed purchase is a replacement.

You should carefully consider whether a replacement is in your best interests. You will pay acquisition costs and there may be surrender costs deducted from your policy or contract. You may be able to make changes to your existing policy or contract to meet your insurance needs at less cost. A financed purchase will reduce the value of your existing policy and may reduce the amount paid upon the death of the insured.

We want you to understand the effects of replacements before you make your purchase decision and ask that you answer the following questions and consider the questions on the back of this form.

1. Are you considering discontinuing making premium payments, surrendering, forfeiting, assigning to the insurer, or otherwise terminating your existing policy or contract? ___ YES ___ NO
2. Are you considering using funds from your existing policies or contracts to pay premiums due on the new policy or contract? ___ YES ___ NO

If you answered "yes" to either of the above questions, list each existing policy or contract you are contemplating replacing (include the name of the insurer, the insured or annuitant, and the policy or contract number if available) and whether each policy or contract will be replaced or used as a source of financing:

	INSURER NAME	CONTRACT OR POLICY #	INSURED OR ANNUITANT	REPLACED (R) OR FINANCING (F)
1.	_____	_____	_____	_____
2.	_____	_____	_____	_____
3.	_____	_____	_____	_____

Make sure you know the facts. Contact your existing company or its agent for information about the old policy or contract. If you request one, an in force illustration, policy summary or available disclosure documents must be sent to you by the existing insurer. Ask for and retain all sales material used by the agent in the sales presentation. Be sure that you are making an informed decision.

The existing policy or contract is being replaced because _____.

I certify that the responses herein are, to the best of my knowledge, accurate:

A replacement may not be in your best interest, or your decision could be a good one. You should make a careful comparison of the costs and benefits of your existing policy or contract and the proposed policy or contract. One way to do this is to ask the company or agent that sold you your existing policy or contract to provide you with information concerning your existing policy or contract. This may include an illustration of how your existing policy or contract is working now and how it would perform in the future based on certain assumptions. Illustrations should not, however, be used as a sole basis to compare policies or contracts. You should discuss the following with your agent to determine whether replacement or financing your purchase makes sense:

PREMIUMS:

- Are they affordable?
- Could they change?
- You're older -- are premiums higher for the proposed new policy?
- How long will you have to pay premiums on the new policy? On the old policy?

POLICY VALUES:

- New policies usually take longer to build cash values and to pay dividends.
- Acquisition costs for the old policy may have been paid, you will incur costs for the new one.
- What surrender charges do the policies have?
- What expense and sales charges will you pay on the new policy?
- Does the new policy provide more insurance coverage?

INSURABILITY:

- If your health has changed since you bought your old policy, the new one could cost you more, or you could be turned down.
- You may need a medical exam for a new policy.
- Claims on most new policies for up to the first two years can be denied based on inaccurate statements.
- Suicide limitations may begin anew on the new coverage.

IF YOU ARE KEEPING THE OLD POLICY AS WELL AS THE NEW POLICY:

- How are premiums for both policies being paid?
- How will the premiums on your existing policy be affected?
- Will a loan be deducted from death benefits?
- What values from the old policy are being used to pay premiums?

IF YOU ARE SURRENDERING AN ANNUITY OR INTEREST SENSITIVE LIFE PRODUCT:

- Will you pay surrender charges on your old contract?
- What are the interest rate guarantees for the new contract?
- Have you compared the contract charges or other policy expenses?

OTHER ISSUES TO CONSIDER FOR ALL TRANSACTIONS:

- What are the tax consequences of buying the new policy?
- Is this a tax free exchange? (See your tax advisor.)
- Is there a benefit from favorable "grandfathered" treatment of the old policy under the federal tax code?
- Will the existing insurer be willing to modify the old policy?
- How does the quality and financial stability of the new company compare with your existing company?

If a replacement is involved in the purchase of the new policy or contract, you may return it within thirty (30) days of receipt for a full refund of all premiums or considerations paid on it, including any policy fees or charges. For a variable or market value adjustment policy or contract, the amount paid will be the cash surrender value provided under the policy or contract plus the fees and other charges deducted from the gross premiums or considerations or imposed under the policy or contract. If the policy or contract is returned, the coverage will be considered void from the beginning.
